

Letting satellite carry traffic and weather is safer for the public. You know exactly where to tune and it's always available when you want or need it. Let the market decide.